

Assessment of Saepudin Mashuri for the Young Scientist Award

□ Strengths for the Award:

1. Expertise and Research Focus: Saepudin Mashuri has a clear and impactful focus on Islamic education, multicultural education, and religious moderation. His research addresses important societal issues and contributes to the field of education with a focus on religious and multicultural contexts.
2. Academic Background: Saepudin holds a doctoral degree in Multicultural Islamic Education from UNISMA Malang, complemented by a Master's degree in Islamic Education. His advanced education provides a strong foundation for his research and teaching roles.
3. Teaching and Mentorship: As a lecturer at the State Islamic University of Datokarama, he educates both undergraduate and postgraduate students in various aspects of Islamic and multicultural education. His role in shaping future educators and leaders in these fields demonstrates his commitment to the academic and practical application of his research.
4. Publications and Authorship: Saepudin has authored multiple books and articles in reputable journals, reflecting his active engagement in research. His publications cover a range of topics, from religious moderation to multicultural leadership, showcasing his depth and breadth of knowledge.
5. Review and Editorial Work: His roles as a reviewer for prestigious journals like Cogent Humanities and as a member of the editorial board for Paedagogia: Jurnal Pendidikan highlight his contribution to the academic community beyond his own research.
6. Impactful Projects: His projects, such as those focusing on religious moderation in multiethnic societies and the utilization of multicultural assets, address significant contemporary issues and offer practical solutions.

□ Areas for Improvement:

1. International Recognition: While Saepudin's work is well-recognized nationally, increasing his presence in international research forums and collaborations could enhance his visibility and impact on a global scale.
2. Diversity in Research Topics: Expanding his research to include more varied topics within the field of education and beyond could provide a broader perspective and contribute to different areas of academic inquiry.
3. Engagement with Emerging Technologies: Exploring how emerging technologies and innovative methods can be integrated into his research on Islamic and multicultural education might open new avenues for impactful studies.

Conclusion:

Saepudin Mashuri is a highly qualified candidate for the Young Scientist Award. His significant contributions to Islamic education, multicultural studies, and religious moderation are underscored by his extensive publication record, teaching roles, and editorial work.
